

How can your church gain through Mission-Net?

→ By sending your youth group to the congress and letting them partake in the Mission-Net movement.

Why:

a) Mission-Net is uniquely European

Mission-Net is the only pan-European congress for everyone between the ages of 16 – 30, and who comes from a wide range of social, academic and church backgrounds

b) Mission-Net is intercultural

Congress participants will gain an appreciation for various cultures within Europe and gain a new worldview on the emerging migrant face of Europe. They will also gain an appreciation for the diverse evangelical and interdenominational expressions of faith

c) Mission-Net is missional

Participants at the congress and in national movements are challenged to live a missional lifestyle in the place God has put them, and through that to transform Europe and the world. This initiative is supported by hundreds of mission agencies and youth organisations.

d) Mission-Net is church-oriented

Mission – missional lifestyle – is the very nature of the Church. Christ's life is revealed in fellowship that, in turn, serves society. Participants learn how God dwells in His Church, how the Church enters the world, and how through His body He carries out His mission with this generation and equips them to do the job – locally, regionally and globally.

e) Mission-Net is relevant

Mission-Net's teaching is taught to be applied to the lives of the participants, whether at school, university, or in their working lives. We want people to live out a Christian lifestyle and be instigators of positive change (transformers).

f) Mission-Net is holistic

It is not just a bi-annual congress. We want to encourage everyone involved to become part of new or existing national missional movements also.

g) Mission-Net is Jesus centred

Mission-Net is Jesus centred and Bible based. We challenge the young people to live a spiritually, uncompromising and church centred life.

h) Mission-Net is prayer orientated

Mission-Net emphasises prayer and the expression of different styles of prayer. Most importantly it is about our relationship with God.
